Fletcher Business Group Announces Alfamacchine® Acquisition of A-Plus Automation s.r.l. (Italy) Assets and IP for International Markets

November 6, 2025, East Berlin, CT – Fletcher Business Group, a leading provider of solution-driven technologies serving picture framing, woodworking, sign & graphics, hardware, and glass fabrication, today announced that its Italy-based subsidiary Alfamacchine® has acquired A-Plus Automation s.r.l. (Italy), including all products, assets, intellectual property, and technology for use in markets outside North America.

In North America, Fletcher Business Group has assumed all distribution of related product families under its AMP™ brand, offering a comprehensive portfolio that includes manual miter saws, underpinners, consumables, and automation. Support for new and existing customers will be available through the AMP technical team.

“This acquisition strengthens our global portfolio and gives customers more innovation and more choice without disruption,” said Ben Paharik, Executive Vice President, Sales, Fletcher Business Group. “By consolidating these solutions under AMP in North America and leveraging Alfamacchine’s engineering leadership internationally, we’re aligning our brands to help customers meet productivity, quality, and cost targets across framing and related applications.”

Alfamacchine will integrate the acquired assets and technology into its international offering to advance automation initiatives outside North America. “This transaction accelerates our roadmap for automation and enables us to deliver higher throughput and repeatable quality for customers scaling production,” said Nicola Germano, Managing Director, Alfamacchine.
